Dear Saugeen First Nation members,

RE: Review of approval process for Saugeen First Nation Food Hub Centre

We, the Saugeen First Nation (“SFN”) Council, write to advise you that on August 5, 2020, we retained Westaway Law Group to undertake an independent review of the approval process for the SFN Food Hub Centre Project (the “Project”).

The purpose of this review is to ensure SFN’s internal approval processes were respected, there was community consultation, and the contract was subject to an independent legal review.

Pending this review, SFN Council has decided to suspend the that the Project for up to six (6) months. SFN Council remains seized of this matter until their term ends on August 31, 2020, in order to facilitate a smooth transition to the new SFN Council.

SFN Council will work closely with Westaway Law and provide regular updates to the community.

Yours very truly,

Saugeen First Nation Council
