

is looking for a CAS Board Member

2 seats available

(1 representative from Saugeen First Nation and Neyaashiinigiing)

Term: 2020 to 2022

The Board of the Bruce Grey Child and Family Services (BGCFS) is an excellent opportunity to provide leadership for the well-being of our communities, the families and most importantly for our children. To ensure they have a well-rounded and diverse board, BGCFS is looking for one representative from each of the local SON communities to serve. The Board works to a five-year Strategic Plan, which was touched up last year and will take the organization to 2024. The Strategic Plan outlines the Vision, Mission and Values of the organization. The Board oversees governance and does not deal with operational matters.

The Board meets virtually on the third Wednesday (evening for up to 3 hours) of every month between September and June and members are expected to actively participate on at least one committee (Community & Stakeholder Relations Committee; Finance, Risk Management and Audit Committee; or Service & Quality Committee). Two of the three committees meet monthly for about 2 hours each and the third committee meets every other month for about 2 hours.

Board membership is typically over a two-year term and can extend for three terms before a mandatory one-year break. After a one-year break, members may return for an additional term.

Board Members are also asked to represent the organization at various community events.

The current Board consists of individuals from the Grey and Bruce counties who care about child welfare and want to see positive changes made. Members' backgrounds are diverse, with members from various fields such as: legal, insurance, child welfare, health care, fostering, policing and teaching.

The Board is a very functional and progressive group where all opinions are welcome and healthy, fruitful discussions are had regularly.
