First Nations, Inuit & Métis Perspectives & Knowledge Sharing on COVID-19 Vaccines

Your Rights & the COVID-19 Vaccinations

Right to choices about COVID-19 vaccinations

You have the right to participate in decisions about your health care, including COVID-19 vaccinations.

Part of making a choice to get vaccinated for yourself or your family might involve exploring all of the options available to you to ensure that you make the right choice for you.

Information about COVID-19 vaccinations

Part of making informed choices about your health and well-being might involve:

Asking questions and expressing your feelings about COVID-19 vaccinations.

Your health care team is responsible for:

Answering your questions; and clearly explaining how COVID-19 vaccinations work in a respectful way that you understand.
