

STIRLING JOHN HOPES TO LEAVE LASTING IMPACT ON REMOTE INDIGENOUS COMMUNITIES WITH NEW STUDIO.

---

Posted by Jacob LeBlanc (CFWE FM – Edmonton, Alberta) on Tuesday, January 11th, 2022 5:30am

Stirling John is an Indigenous Ojibwe country singer/song writer currently residing in Spruce Grove, Alberta and has continued to push the envelope in the music industry. His recent endeavor will connect his music and story to many remote First Nations communities across the province and Canada.

Stirling recently gave a massive upgrade to his studio which includes the likes of 4 high end cameras, switchers, and the capability to give a in depth, HD live show on social media platforms.

---

